SUMMARY
Mebane was highly productive and dependable at the collegiate level. He proved to be a team leader and a key player on the Bears' defensive line. Has good strength and quickness and can be disruptive. Hard worker. Can occupy double teams. Doesn't possess ideal height and needs to use hands better to protect blocker. Not test out as well as he plays, and due to that, may be drafted lower than his production would indicate. Will contribute and eventually start on a NFL defensive line. Depending on underclassman declaring, 1st round around the third/fourth round.
